PLEASE KEEP THE COUNTRYSIDE TIDY

THE SIGN OF A GOOD NAVIGATOR

— because the world's top navigators, i.e. orienteers, polar, jungle and desert explorers, mountaineers, armed forces, Scandinavian rally drivers, fell runners, mountain school instructors, etc, etc, use/insist on SILVA compasses.

There is a SILVA compass for every type of user, including the blind, Muslims, divers, NATO forces, in fact anyone who needs to know direction.

SILVA COMPASSES ARE AVAILABLE THROUGH ALL GOOD CAMPING, CLIMBING, RAMBLING AND SCOUTING EQUIPMENT SHOPS AND MANY O.S. MAP STOCKISTS

ORGANISERS COMMENTS

We must first thank the volunteers from the Backpackers Club who once again marshalled the event.

As usual, they dispersed to their checkpoints with military precision – navigating to a marker left by the course planner several days before. They also provided invaluable help at registration, the starts and the finishes.

Several teams have been disqualified for punching their control cards at the wrong checkpoint. All race checkpoints were separated by at least 500 metres – were on different features, and had a different code letter. The checkpoints were carefully located on the ground and always at the exact centre of the circle shown on the description sheet.

Next year, we plan to introduce a short runners course as the Kirkfell and Carrockfell classes have become too large and there seems to be a demand for a shorter class than the Carrockfell.

We would welcome any suggestions (polite please!!) for other improvements.

We hope that you all had fun – See you next year!

A 'THANK YOU' FROM THE SPONSORS

This years SLMM, the 15th has probably been the most successful to date and we, the Saunders family, would like to thank all competitors for their participation and congratulate those who succeeded in completing their respective courses.

Organising an event such as the SLMM involves a great deal of work which commences immediately after the previous one has finished and carries on in various degrees for the best part of the year, involving a large number of people.

We would therefore like to thank Martin Bagness and Charlotte Webb, the event organisers for their major contributions to the success of the event.

Alan Stiling and the many members of the Backpackers Club for their repetitive and loyal assistance, without which, the event would not be possible.

The efforts of Wilf and his 'Cafe Plus' cannot be overlooked. Friday night meals, Saturday morning breakfasts, and mid-campsite refreshments were an invaluable service to competitors.

Our thanks must also be extended to the members of the Leisure Trade who donated the varied selection of valuable prizes. To Carringtons who gave the fabric for the marshals tabards. To Robert Howard for his excellent photographic coverage over the years, and members of our staff who quietly assist in processing entries and queries throughout the year.

Our grateful thanks and appreciation to you all.

Joan and Bob Saunders.

WE HAVE A PROBLEM! I

Despite the fact that the SLMM has not been advertised for several years, we received this year, approximately two competitor applications for each place allocated which resulted in a large number of disappointed would be participants.

Feedback from the National Trust suggests that for environmental reasons, we further reduce the number of entries for the event.

Environmentalists enjoy much sympathy and support from the armchair public and they must be heeded if we are to be allowed to continue the SLMM.

For our part, we have always sought to restrict our activities to remote areas avoiding footpaths and the habitat of rare birds and other wildlife, and after each event have sought to leave no evidence of our presence.

It will therefore be necessary to restrict next years SLMM to a maximum of 500 teams, and the entry lists will be closed as soon as this number has been reached.

Closing date for entries will again be 31st December although judging from this years applications, the event is usually fully subscribed long before that date.

We do feel that the event should cater for regular competitors with allowances for newcomers and influenced by our normal 'first come first served' principle. With a desire to be fair, we would seek and welcome any suggestions, ideas or comments upon a formula to allocate places.

This years event was probably the best that we have had – We just don't want to jeopardize its continuance.

Disqualifications this year amounted to 2% of participants and I feel that I must make some comment on this. Disqualification always seems to me to be a severe word for minor infringements or errors such as visiting a checkpoint out of sequence or missing one entirely. A list of disqualifications showing team numbers and reasons is appended below – they are, I am sure you will agree very minor. However, rules are rules and the line has to be drawn somewhere. As one who has in the past been penalised on many occasions for minor infringements, you have my sympathy.

The Editor.
